After my first equine gestalt coaching session I was given the opportunity and support to let go of something I was not aware I was hanging onto. This experience led me to have better boundaries and healthier relationships with myself and others, dropping my stress levels significantly! I stand behind this work 100 percent!

"The EGC Method works. I have done talk therapy, groups, and have a very strong support system. All of those things were helpful, but nothing helped to rid me of my pain completely, like this method did. In combination with the natural healing power of horses, this work has brought forth and healed parts of me that I thought would plague me forever. I now live lighter, more fully, and free."
